Terms & Conditions.

Your source materials will be transferred and returned to you with your new formats. Please report missing source materials on return or within 7 days of return. Source files will be deleted from Copysmith's systems after 30 days. Extra copies may be ordered during this 30 day period without the need to return source materials. Unclaimed source materials will be disposed of after 30 days. Source material that is not of good quality or arrives damaged may lead to poor quality conversions. Copysmith is not liable for improving quality of source materials and does guarantee enhancement of poor quality source materials. Copysmith is not liable for loss or damage of source materials that are transported to or from Copysmith, or to any third party that Copysmith appoints for the purposes of carrying out conversion work. Video tapes will be forwarded to 5, 10 and 15 minutes before being deemed blank. Blank tape: will carry no charge, unless we are batch testing tapes to ascertain blanks. Under advice from IMRO we are allowed to produce one copy of Copyrighted material, on a different format, for personal use only, as long as the source material is a legitimately purchased authentic original. As the client it is your responsibility to ensure that materials presented for conversion, copying or similar, are free from copyright, or you have the correct permission to reproduce materials from the copyright or licence holder. Copysmith will not be held liable for copyright infringement of source materials presented for conversion or reproduction.
